State NDA MPs to stage dharna

Thursday December 15 2005 10:08 IST

BHUBANESWAR: Parliament members of Biju Janata Dal and Bharatiya Janata Party from the State will stage dharna near Parliament on Thursday to protest the shifting of National Institute of Science (NIS) in the eastern region to Kolkata.

Responding to the call given by Agami Odissa, a newly floated social organisation fighting for the interest of the State, Parliament members of BJD and BJP will sit on dharana at Jantar Mantar Road, Delhi from 11 a.m.

Higher Education Minister Samir Dey, Minister of State Jaynarayan Mishra and BJP State vice-president Sameer Mohanty will also participate in the dharna.

On November 30, several BJD and BJP members in the Lok Sabha led by Braja Kishore Tripathy raised the issue during zero hour and even staged dharna in the well of the lower house protesting the UPA Government's negligence to the State.

Although the NDA Government has issued necessary administrative instruction for setting up of four more such national institutes including the one in Bhubaneswar, the UPA Government relocated the NIS to Kolkata.

Meanwhile, the Orissa High Court has stayed the Centre's decision to shift the location.
