Samajwadi Party questions PM's NIS policy

Pioneer News Service | Bhubaneswar

The State unit of the Samajwadi Party on Tuesday ridiculed the PM Manmohan Singh's observation while announcing establishment of the National Institute of Science Education and Research (NISER). Instead of the proposed establishment of the NIS, which was earlier decided by the NDA Government, Singh did not reveal why the proposal was dropped, the party's State president Baisnab Parida pointed.

"The State Government had earlier decided the place for setting up a NIS centre at par with other institutions with excellence and the NIS would have been under the control of Union Human Resource Development Ministry, but Singh on Monday announced establishment of an institution which would be under the Department of Atomic Energy," Parida said. Singh's announcement smacks of double standard on the part of the UPA Government. , he alleged.

"The Central Government has already installed a NIS in Pune, while no such institution has been established in Orissa. The NISER, the foundation-stone was laid by the PM has no Union Cabinet approval leading to doubts about seriousness for establishing institution," Parida said.
